

Students living away from home prep for their Diwali here

'Am looking forward to enjoy the festival in the campus'

"I am in Chennai and prefer to stay back at college during Diwali. I rarely had parents on these occasions. I had a handful number of people. There are few crackers and sweets to enjoy Diwali in campus. So I am really looking forward to enjoy the festival!"

— Durbin Maheswari, fourth year, IISCT

'I'll celebrate the festival with my mom and sister'

"Being a Bangal, Diwali was never far from childhood memories of the hand-painted rangolis, lighting of diyas, and the vibrant colours of the festival. This year we will celebrate the festival in my hometown. It will be a great experience for me and my family. I will spend Diwali with my mom and sister."

— Saanika Mahal, fourth year, NMIT

'Excited to celebrate my first Diwali in India'

"I will be my first Diwali in India. I am so happy to be celebrating this auspicious festival with colourful rangolis, lights and beautiful diyas in IIT Gandhinagar. Our institute is going to make sure no animals or any other living being will be harmed and the crackers will be burnt in designated places with many precautions. We will celebrate an eco-friendly Diwali in the campus."

— Sevgi Demiroglu, a student from Turkey studying in IIT-Gn

'Will spend Diwali at an orphanage'

"This Diwali I wish to go home to my family in Kanpur so we have planned to spend the day at an orphanage, and then enjoy a traditional Diwali."

— Anshika Mishra, fourth year, NMIT

'Exams have tied me down this year'

"I have exams before and after Diwali and I'm spending a month of time in preparing for the exams ahead. I can't go home to my family or hometown because of the exams, and now they have already left for vacations. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in my hometown."

— Sakshi Borkhane, second year, IIT Kanpur

'I celebrate Diwali with my friends who are like my family'

"Celebrating Diwali with family is my tradition. I have not had the opportunity to celebrate the festival with my family every year, especially those who have a lot of projects to attend. I celebrate Diwali with my college friends who are like my family. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in my hometown."

— Shikharang Sangam, fourth year, IIT

'Diwali is fun irrespective of where it is celebrated'

"Diwali is a festival that is celebrated in every part of India. It is a festival that is celebrated with much joy and happiness. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in my hometown."

— Bhishu Sharma, fourth year, IIT

'College feels like home during Diwali'

"My family lives in Lucknow, but I am in IIT Gandhinagar during Diwali. I am celebrating Diwali in my college. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in my college. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in my college."

— Durbin Maheswari, fourth year, IISCT

How to celebrate Diwali in the campus?
Celebrate Diwali with your friends and family in the campus. You can light diyas, make rangolis, and enjoy the festival. You can also participate in Diwali competitions and events. You can also enjoy the festival with your friends and family in the campus. You can also enjoy the festival with your friends and family in the campus."

'Will explore Ahmedabad during Diwali'

"This year I won't be going home because I can't go back. I will explore Ahmedabad during Diwali. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in Ahmedabad. I will spend Diwali with my friends and family in Ahmedabad."

— Adira A, first year, NMIT

Devanshi Mishra, third year, NMIT

Adira A, first year, NMIT

Adira A, first year, NMIT

Adira A, first year, NMIT

Adira A, first year, NMIT

Adira A, first year, NMIT

Ahmedabad Times

Ahmedabad Times 20 hrs ago
For the full story, read tomorrow's Ahmedabad Times. #WhatsUpCampus Times Fresh Face

Ahmedabad Times @AhmedabadTimesTOI
Home Posts Videos Photos About Community Info and Ads
Create a Page

WHAT'S UP? CAMPUS
COLLEGIANS PREP FOR DIWALI AWAY FROM HOME
Ahmedabad Times Media/News Company
Send Message
Like Comment Share

About See All
Typically replies instantly
Send Message
imesofindia.indiatimes.com/entertainment/punjab
Media/News Company
Suggest Edits
Team Members
Yasha Bhatt
Mukti Jain
Somashukla Sinha Watunekar
Related Pages
Malhar Thakar Artist Like
Aarohi Artist Like

je e re ali in ar,

ral ter' hildhood be er than the

'Excited to celebrate my first Diwali in India'

childhood be er than the
"It will be my first Diwali in India. I am so happy to be celebrating this auspicious festival with colourful rangolis, lights and beautiful diyas in IIT Gandhinagar. Our institute is going to make sure no animals or any other living being will be harmed and the crackers will be burnt in designated places with many precautions. We will celebrate an eco-friendly Diwali in the campus."
— Sevgi Demiroglu, a student from Turkey studying in IIT-Gn
to my family in Kanpur, so we at an orphanage. and then en-

Title: Students living away from home prep for their Diwali here
Source: The Times of India (Ahmedabad Times Pg. no. 2)
Date: 06-11-2018