

Students from Caltech, JAIST and IIT-Gn participate in India ki Khoj

A week-long immersion programme, titled 'India ki Khoj' was launched at IIT-Gandhinagar at which 10 students each from California Institute of Technology and Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (JAIST) also participated. Among other places, the teams also visited parts of Ahmedabad during a heritage walk and the Harappan-era site of Lothal, considered to be one of the oldest ports of the world.
