

PROFESSOR SPEAK

"I was very happy with the way the summer school was organised. Everything from the venue to the other arrangements were perfect. The college's efforts to arrange the lectures were praiseworthy"

Kong Aik Lee, Senior Principal Researcher at Data Science Research Laboratories, Japan

"I loved teaching at IITGN. This is my sixth year (the month of January usually) of teaching here. I like the students: bright, motivated, intellectually curious, and the faculty who share those attributes. I manage to borrow a bicycle each time, and I like to ride around in the countryside among the farmers' fields, and nearby places, like Sector 21, Chandkheda, Chiloda, Lavarpur, and the Gift City. I love India. My heart's in the right place. I am amazed at how the IITGN campus has grown because I rode my bicycle here about five years ago from Chandkheda, and there was a picnic under a big tree, and that's about all that was here then! Director IITGN, Prof Jain has done a truly outstanding job building this campus into a wonderful, amazing, and prestigious institution in such a short period of time."

'The material Dr Frederick Coolidge taught and his approach as a teacher was extremely accessible'

The engineering institute invites foreign faculty from various countries to give lectures or to take courses. Dr Frederick Coolidge, professor at University of Colorado was recently invited to IIT to take a course.

"I found Dr Frederick Coolidge's classes engaging. The material he taught and his approach as a teacher was extremely accessible. For someone with no psychology or anthropology background was still able to understand and grasp the material that he discussed in class. He was an excellent teacher and I am glad to have taken his course this semester."
